

Certificate in Counselling and Psychotherapeutic Studies

Summer 2019 – Block Weekend Option

INTRODUCTION

Our Certificate is the perfect entry point for those considering a career in counselling and psychotherapy as it contains an excellent mix of the subjects which are core to counsellor development. All IICP faculty teaching on this programme are therapy practitioners, which means they put their teaching into a real-world context.

COURSE STRUCTURE

The programme consists of three introductory modules in the subjects of Counselling Theory, Counselling Skills and Personal Development. It is a highly interactive programme, delivered through a variety of teaching approaches such as lectures, group discussion, experiential work, individual exercises, and self-directed learning.

The modules are delivered over three weekends during the Summer (Friday evening class and two full teaching days on Saturday and Sunday). Each module carries its own assessment, which is based on a continuous assessment strategy.

STUDENT BENEFITS & SUPPORT

As our certificate is conferred at Level 6 on the National Framework of Qualifications (NFQ), it evidences the rigour required for a quality programme of learning. The dynamic mix of theory, skills, group work, practice and personal development ensures learners grow academically, professionally, personally and interpersonally within frameworks that are on the cutting edge of best practice.

WHO SHOULD APPLY?

This programme is suitable for those either working in the helping professions, or interested in seeking to develop their awareness of what is involved in training as a counsellor/ psychotherapist.

OUR ETHOS

At the heart of the training provided in IICP lies the belief that people are experts in their own story. IICP promotes a warm, safe, environment that is free from fear, criticism and coercion. We work with each student on an individual case-by-case basis to ensure this programme meets the learning styles of a diverse population.
